World Immunization Week April 2025

27 April 2025 - Vaccines are among the most powerful tools we have to protect children, families, and communities from life-threatening diseases. Each and every vaccination brings us one step closer to a healthier, safer world – a world where no child, adolescent, adult, older person or vulnerable individual suffers or dies from a preventable illness.

Immunization not only saves millions of lives every year, but it also strengthens healthcare systems and advances global health equity. It is a force for good - shielding lives, restoring hope, and uplifting the health of entire nations.

This World Immunization Week, let us stand united in our support for universal access to lifesaving vaccines. For everyone, everywhere. When we protect each other, we build a brighter and more resilient future for all.

Together, we can transform the power of vaccines into a lasting legacy of health, safety, and compassion - for this generation and for those yet to come.
